CONNECTICUT CENTS.

One of the largest collections ever offered. It is to be borne in mind that the series is rife with crudely cut and imperfect planchets, misstrikes and overstrikes. The condition is from poor to good, fairly equalized, with some fine. The specimens are numbered according to Crosby, in Early Coins of America, with small figures, in white paint, a custom that is both common and necessary among those who make a specialty of the series; a few are labelled with a ticket pasted on. From first to last, I count but eleven duplicates, some probably retained to show complete design. Others, varieties not cited by Crosby. Rarity up to R⁶.

38 1785 Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5, 6. 8

39 1786 Obverses 4 and 5, the latter with at least nine revs. 12

43 1787 The voluminous No. 33, numbered from 1 to 15. 21

44 1787 Others of No. 33, numbered from 16 to 39. 23

45 1787 No. 33Z. Uncirculated; light olive. 1

46 1787 A continuation; Nos. 39 to 43, including 3 var. of the AUCTOPI, and others numbered 44 to 54. 13

47 1788 Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 9, 11, 12, 13, 15, 16, 17, with varieties of some. Mailed busts l. (8). Draped busts l. (9). Mailed busts r. (5). 22

48 Various Conn. Cents, 1785, '86, '87, '88. Unnumbered, culled from the preceding. Unassorted, some misstruck, a few overstrikes. Poor, good and fine. 23

Vine and bars on edge. C. 8F. Obv. is good, though severely rubbed, levelling the highest parts of hair. Every feature of the face remains. Rev. fine. 1

The specimen here offered is the identical one mentioned by Crosby in his work. But one other is known up to this date, therefore, it is more precious than the celebrated "Clover leaf," of which three have been found, and all are poor. One sold in Frossard's sale some fifteen years ago for $125.00. I think it may justly be regarded as the compeer in rarity of any piece in the entire series of United States coins.
